EYE-APPEAL SELLS HUGONIS!

"Golden-Shrub Rose of China"

To gain favorable attention with this shrub-like beauty, and to tempt your trade, plant HUGONIS at the entrance to your establishment; let it add attraction to your display plots; or have it give grace to some of the most prominent of your plantings. The results will please you and turn money into your treasury!

With great golden hollyhock-like blooms of clear yellow in mid-May HUGONIS heralds the other Roses. The bush is continuously attractive, even when the flowers have flown, for its slender arching branches are charmingly clad with acacia-like foliage, and maroon-colored new growths are constantly beckoning the eye. HUGONIS is at home as an early-flowering hedge, in a shrubbery planting or upon the lawn!
